

Congressional Coalition on Adoption Institute 2007 Foster Youth Internship Program Application

The Congressional Coalition on Adoption Institute's (CCAI) Foster Youth Internship (FYI) Program is a competitive, highly esteemed Congressional Internship for young adults who were in U.S. foster care at the time of their eighteenth birthday or who were adopted after their fourteenth birthday from the U.S. foster care system. All applicants must be enrolled in college and have completed 4 semesters by May 18, 2007. The 2007 program will place 16 academically successful college students in the Washington, D.C. offices of Members of Congress. The dates for the 2007 Congressional Foster Youth Internship are May 23 - July 21, 2007.

About the Program

The Congressional Coalition on Adoption Institute, a nonpartisan, nonprofit created by Congress, started the FYI program in 2003 to raise awareness on Capitol Hill about the needs and unique perspectives of young adults in the United States aging out of foster care. This important program was founded with the support of the Congressional Directors of CCAI, Senator Larry Craig, Senator Mary Landrieu, Congresswoman Ginny Brown-Waite, and Congressman Jim Oberstar. Every year, Congressional Members partner with CCAI to "match" an eligible intern to an eight-week internship in their Washington, D.C. office. Every effort is made to place interns in the region of the country where they reside permanently. Interns are given a real-world experience in a Congressional office, complete with professional training, as well as a retreat coordinated by the Congressional Coalition on Adoption Institute.

The FYI Program is made possible through the generous support of the Dave Thomas Foundation for Adoption and the Annie E. Casey Foundation.

Typical substantive duties of a Congressional Foster Youth Intern:

- Work directly with legislative correspondents and legislative assistants to research issues and compose correspondence.
- Attend committee hearings, sit in on meetings, attend press conferences, and take notes.
- Work on small legislative projects.
- Constituent services.
- Attend and serve at Congressional briefings and meetings, including events organized by CCAI for the members of the Congressional Coalition on Adoption (Congress' Adoption Caucus).

Typical administrative duties of a Congressional Foster Youth Intern:

- Open, sort, and deliver incoming mail.
- Answer phones, greet constituents, run errands, deliver priority letters, and acquire Congressional signatures.
- Copying, filing, faxing, and data entry.

The eight-week internship is a full-time work experience. Interns are paid a small stipend that will cover daily expenses. The CCAI FYI program pays major expenses such as housing and transportation to Washington, D.C. Interns must live in Washington, D.C. for the full duration of the program, including residing with the internship class at the provided Washington, D.C. university.

Eligibility

Applicants must meet the following eligibility criteria

- The applicant was in U.S. foster care system at the time of their eighteenth birthday or be adopted after their fourteenth birthday from the U.S. foster care system.
(and)
- The applicant has completed at least two years of college in a four-year degree program.

Good writing and research skills accompanied by an interest in the legislative process are required, and students in every degree program are encouraged to apply.

College Credit

Many colleges and universities allow students to obtain academic credit for internships. Please check with your academic advisor to determine if you are eligible to receive academic credit for a Capitol Hill internship.

About the Congressional Coalition on Adoption Institute

The Congressional Coalition on Adoption (CCA) was created in 1985 as a bicameral, bipartisan caucus of members of Congress dedicated to improving adoption policy and practice, and to focusing public attention on the advantages of adoption. In 2001, the CCA's active co-chairs created the Congressional Coalition on Adoption Institute (CCAI) to more effectively raise Congressional and public awareness about the issue of adoption. Senator Larry Craig, Senator Mary Landrieu, Congresswoman Ginny Brown-Waite, and Congressmen Jim Oberstar currently serve as both the co-chairs of the CCA and the Congressional directors of CCAI.

CCAI serves as an informational and educational resource to policymakers as they seek to draft positive adoption, foster care and other adoption-related legislation and to meet their constituents' needs. By organizing congressional briefings, leadership training programs and educational trips, CCAI educates members of Congress and their staff about current domestic and international adoption-related matters. In addition, CCAI hosts several public awareness events each year to give an opportunity to all members of the United States Congress and other public leaders to use their powerful voices to improve the lives of our most vulnerable children, and to recognize outstanding individuals who have done the same.

Mission Statement: The Congressional Coalition on Adoption Institute is a nonprofit, nonpartisan organization dedicated to raising awareness about the tens of thousands of orphans and foster children in the United States and the millions of orphans around the world in need of permanent, safe, and loving homes through adoption; and to eliminating the barriers that hinder these children from realizing their basic right of a family.

APPLICATION REQUIREMENTS

ALL APPLICATIONS MUST BE POSTMARKED BY JANUARY 5, 2007.

To apply, submit the following materials to CCAI:

1. Application form (please fax immediately to 703-288-0999, attention: Chelsea Buffington, to begin the application process).
2. Resume. Please include previous work experience and full educational background.
3. A two-page essay on where you see yourself in 5 years. What types of activities do you currently participate in that would stay the same? What would be different about your life?
4. A three-page essay stating your views on adoption and foster care and explaining why you are interested in a Congressional Foster Youth Internship. Discuss the system as you have experienced it and how you have seen it working or not working for those under its care.
